St. Stanislaus Key Club

Fifty members of St. Stanislaus High School's newly-organized Key Club chapter are donating muscle and compassion to serve their church, shcool and community. It's their way of ensuring that Stanislaus is known for having heart as well as high academic standards.

"The idea of service is very important because it's one of the things we're trying to teach as far as the moral and faith values of the school," says Brother John Hotstream, the club's faculty advisor. "Students learn that, first of all, services are needed. Also, it's important that they realize that they can make a difference in a few lives."

Since organizing in November 1987, club members have cleaned, painted and repaired the homes of elderly citizens, done grocery shopping and cut firewood for them. They've also moved the belongings of senior citizens into the new retirement home in Bay St. Louis. The club sponsors dances and barbeques for Miramar Nursing Home and South Mississippi Retardation Center residents, and occasional weekend activities for the St. Louis Infants' Home in Houma, La.

Club membership has doubled in just over a year, and the list of weekly accomplishments continues to grow.

While Hotstream is proud of the club's service record, he wants the word out that the group is available and willing to work.

"What's good is that people know we do exist and that we're interested in doing service."

Hotstream's goal for the next school year is to increase membership and involve club members' parents in community projects.

"I'm hoping that, as the club grows, we can get parents to work right along with the children. I think that will be a beautiful thing to see. The school will become a focus for bringing parents and children into service that goes back out to the community," says Hotstream.

"Hopefully, we'll get to the point where we'll say, 'We can't play this weekend because we have Key Club things to do.' There are so many things that can't be done."

SSC Key Club members learn to live Golden Rule

Special to the Echo

Key Club? A music group? Hardly.

Key Club is the largest high school service group in the world. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, Key Club seeks to put young people in service to others, working with people, for people, in their schools, in their churches and in their communities.

The SSC Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport. These Kiwanians take an interest in the service projects of Stanislaus, often working together.

In October, the Kiwanis Club held a citywide cleanup; the SSC Key Club worked with them in this effort.

Some of the St. Stanislaus projects involve prayer services monthly for the students as well as for the residents of Miramar Nursing Home. The club sponsored a back-to-school dance for the students, treated new sixth graders to a welcome barbeque and collected money for the victims of Hurricane Hugo.

Groups that offer monthly service activities involve the elderly, shut-ins, retarded children, orphans, even the Navajo missions in Arizona. Each week sees Key Clubers involved in at least one service project.

Is there a payoff other than the immediate benefit of cleaning up a beach or bringing a smile to an elderly person's face at bingo?

Mark Distefano, SSC Key Club president, thinks so. "Key Club gives a young person a sense of power, a feeling that with a little time and effort, he can change things, maybe not the world, but the world around him, and that's a start."

Brother John, faculty advisor, sees the organization as the heart of the Christian school. "When young people serve others, they carry out the Golden Rule, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

Key Club is also an education. The young people learn about conditions in their community, about social problems that need to be addressed. More importantly, they learn that there are solutions, that with a little generosity and time, their world can become a better place.

Key Club members host barbecue for SSC sixth graders.

Key Club student named

JOHNNY LABRUZZO

St. Stanislaus Key Club member for the month of October is senior Johnny LaBruzzo.

He was recognized for the special honor as a result of his leadership in working with the elderly at Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian, where he conducts monthly bingo and prayer services.

He also took part in the Key Club district rally where he won the Sandy Ninegar Award.

LaBruzzo, the son of Mrs. Agnes Cannizzaro of Metairie and John LaBruzzo of New Orleans, has lettered in varsity football and track.

He is senior class secretary, a varsity cheerleader, and a member of S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk).

The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Gulfport Kiwanis Club, and the moderator of the key club is Brother John Hotstream.

Lagasse named SSC Key Club Student of Month

St. Stanislaus senior Mickey Lagasse has been named "Key Club Member of the Month" for August by the St. Stanislaus Key Club Board.

Lagasse was in charge of the "Back to School Dance"; he assisted at the sixth grade barbeque; and he represented St. Stanislaus at the Bay St. Louis town meeting on youth problems.

Lagasse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lagasse of Bay St. Louis. (SSC Photo)

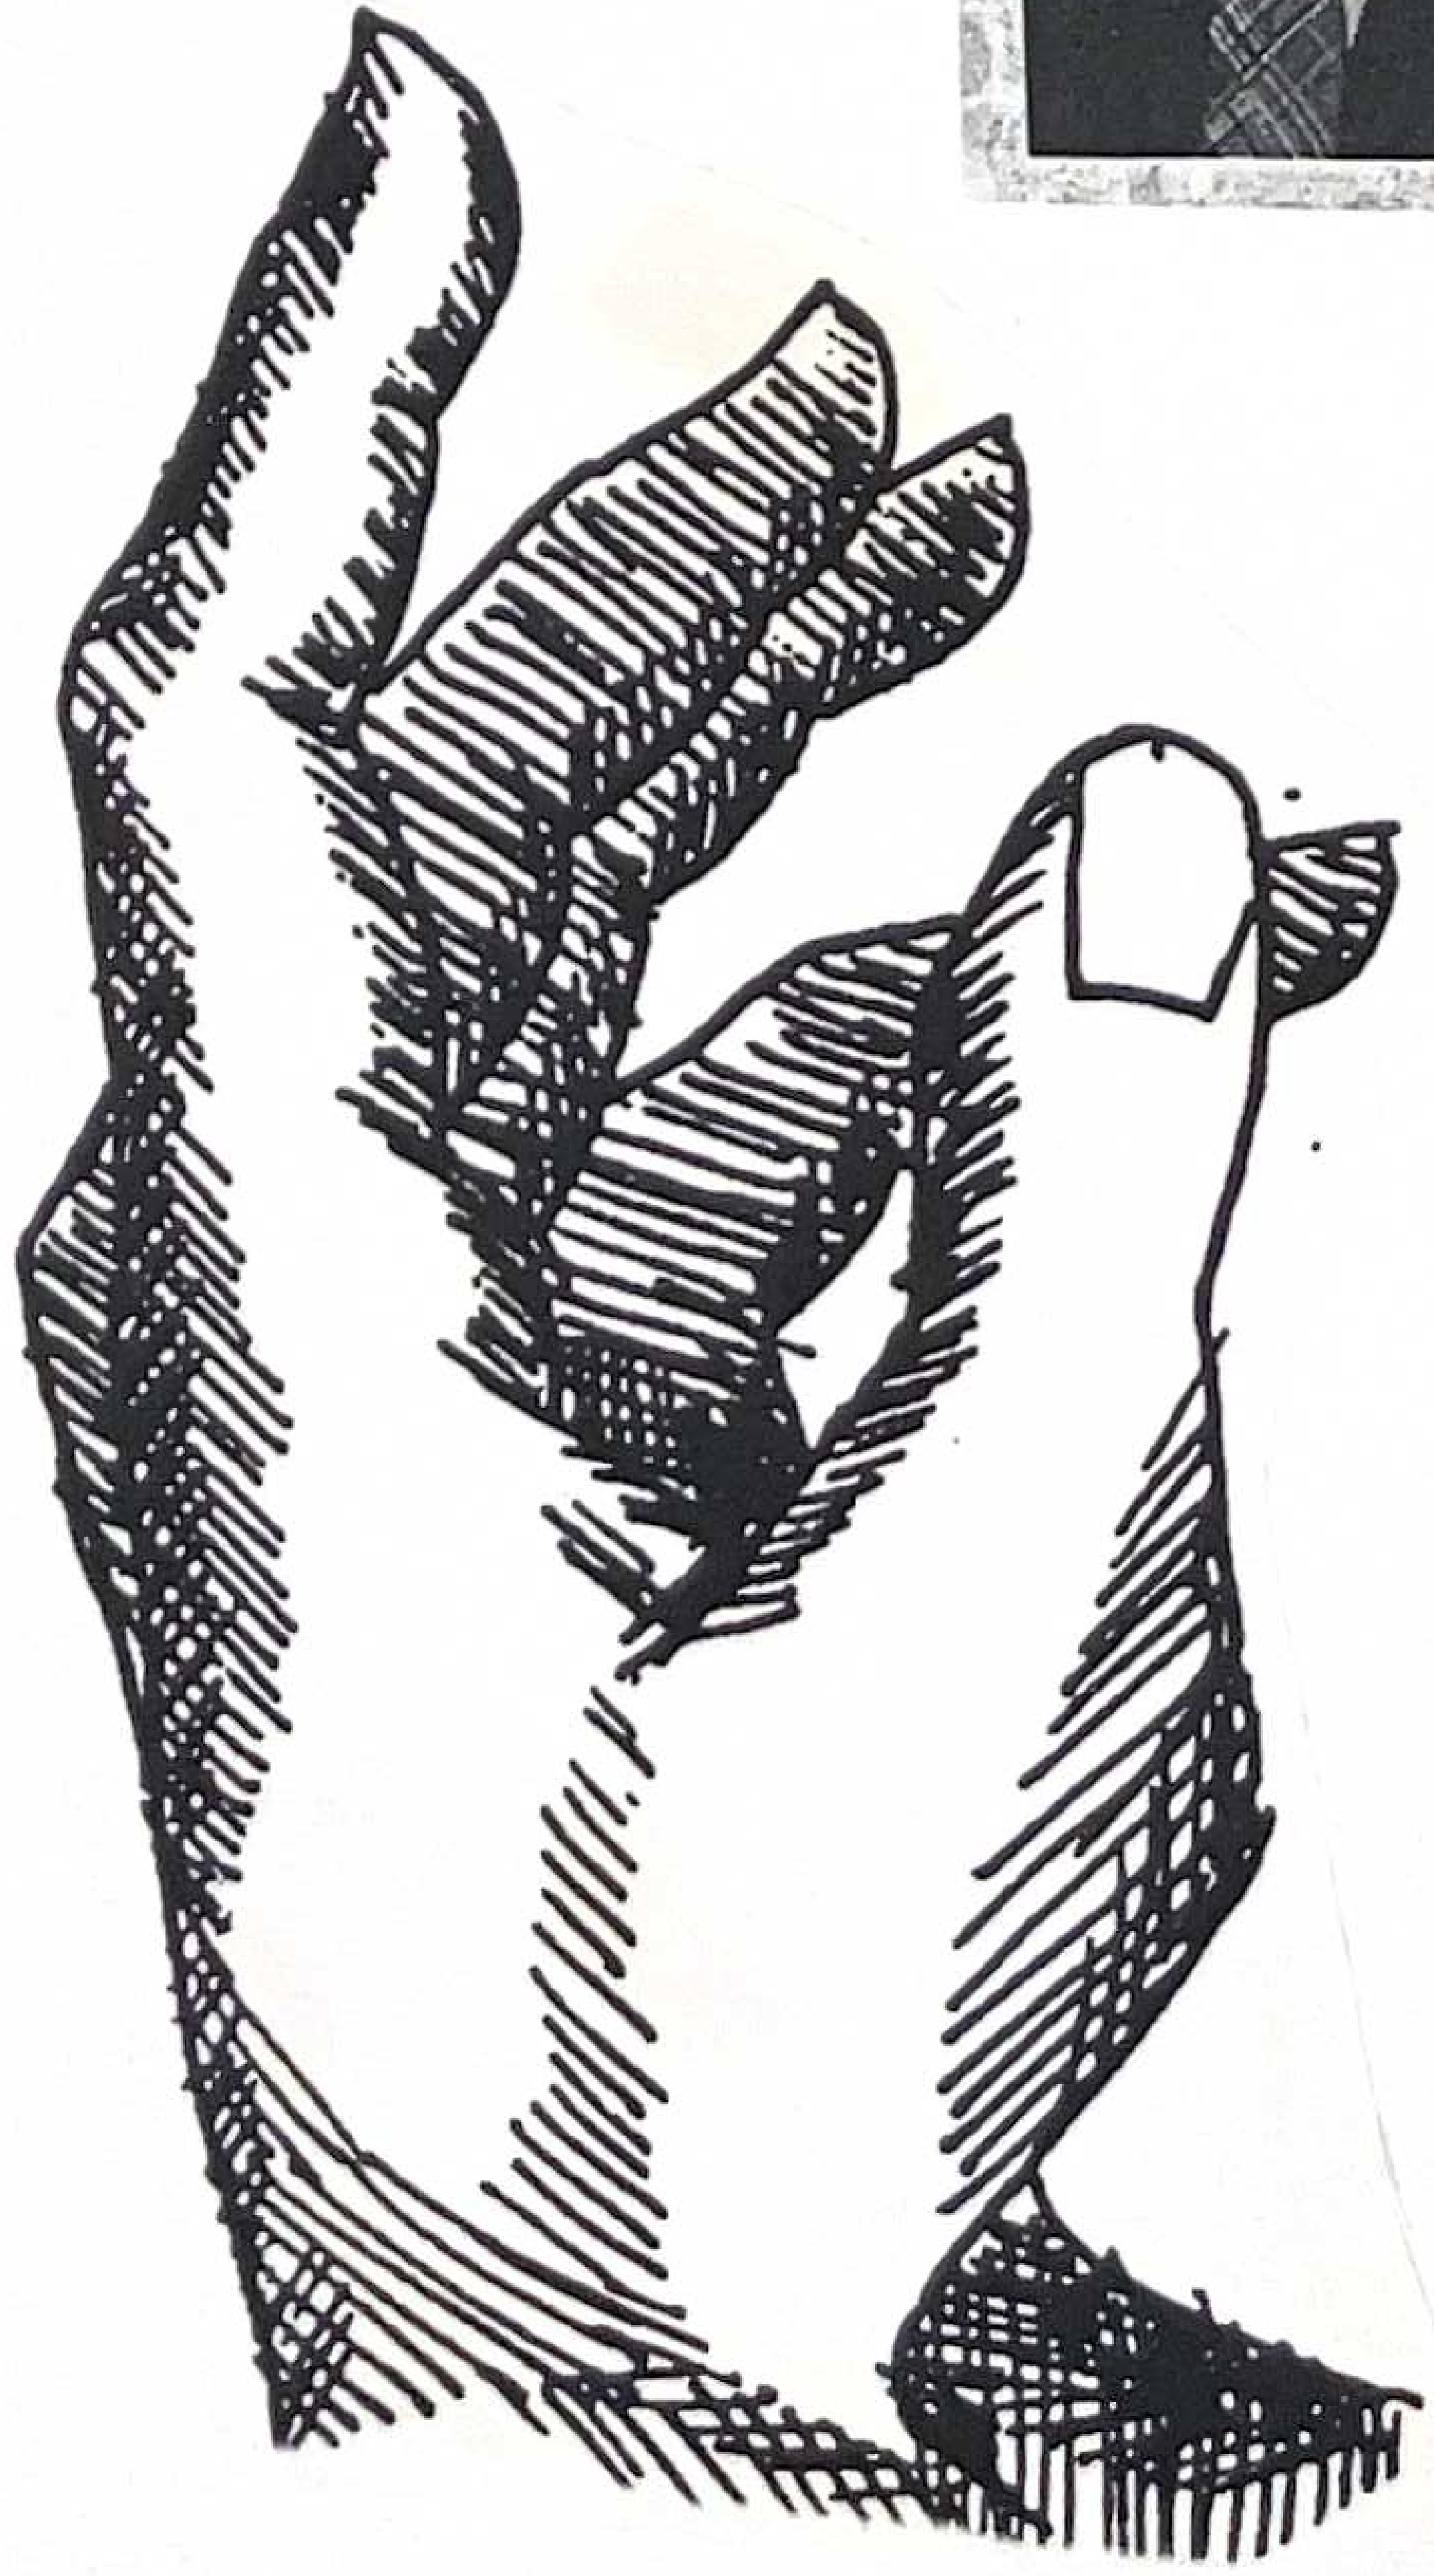
Selle named Key club student

ELLIOT SELLE

St. Stanislaus sophomore Elliot Selle has been selected Key Club Outstanding Member for the Month of January.

Selle was recognized for his many contributions to the Key Club service projects, which included beach clean-up, gym painting, dances for the retarded, and bingo for the senior citizens.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Selle of Waveland. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.



EDUCATION NOTES

Taylor honored by Key Club

JEFF TAYLOR

St. Stanislaus senior Jeff Taylor has been selected as the Key Club outstanding member for the month of November.

Taylor has been active in many projects of the St. Stanislaus Key Club and he has shown a strong sense of leadership.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor of Pass Christian. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

The Key Club

The Key Club is a good one. I would live to be a member, but I can't because I am in the seventh grade. But as I get older, I would join this club.

Now let me tell you what this club has done for the school. The club has held dances to raise money. They have also raised money for the mentally retarded. They have helped gather food from classes for the poor people in the community.

This club does many, many, and I really mean many things, not only for the school but for countless people around us. This club is a really exciting group. I have never seen one do so many things. I have gone to other schools and they have not done nearly half of what this club does. Thank you, Key Club.

Key Club Honors Two St. Stanislaus Students

By Noah Denson

This year's Louisiana-Mississippi-Tennessee Key Club convention in Biloxi was an excellent experience for all in the three states.

The SSC Key Club received much recognition there as Sammy Russo was elected Lt. Governor of Division 14, and Johnny Labruzzo won a distinguished service award. Everyone who attended learned many new leadership and political skills. We also met many people in the three-state district.

This year's Key Club Convention was such a success, I suggest that all members consider taking part in the convention in Alexandria, La. next year. I also strongly recommend that any interested students please join the club and participate in all of the many activities we do for the community and school.

St. Stanislaus students who were honored were Sammy Russo and Johnny Labruzzo, both juniors.

Sammy was elected Lieutenant Governor of South Mississippi, and Johnny was honored as Key Clubber of the Year for his work at the Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian.

The Key Club continues its many activities until it takes time out to attend next year's convention in Alexandria, La. where it will again elect officers for the following year.

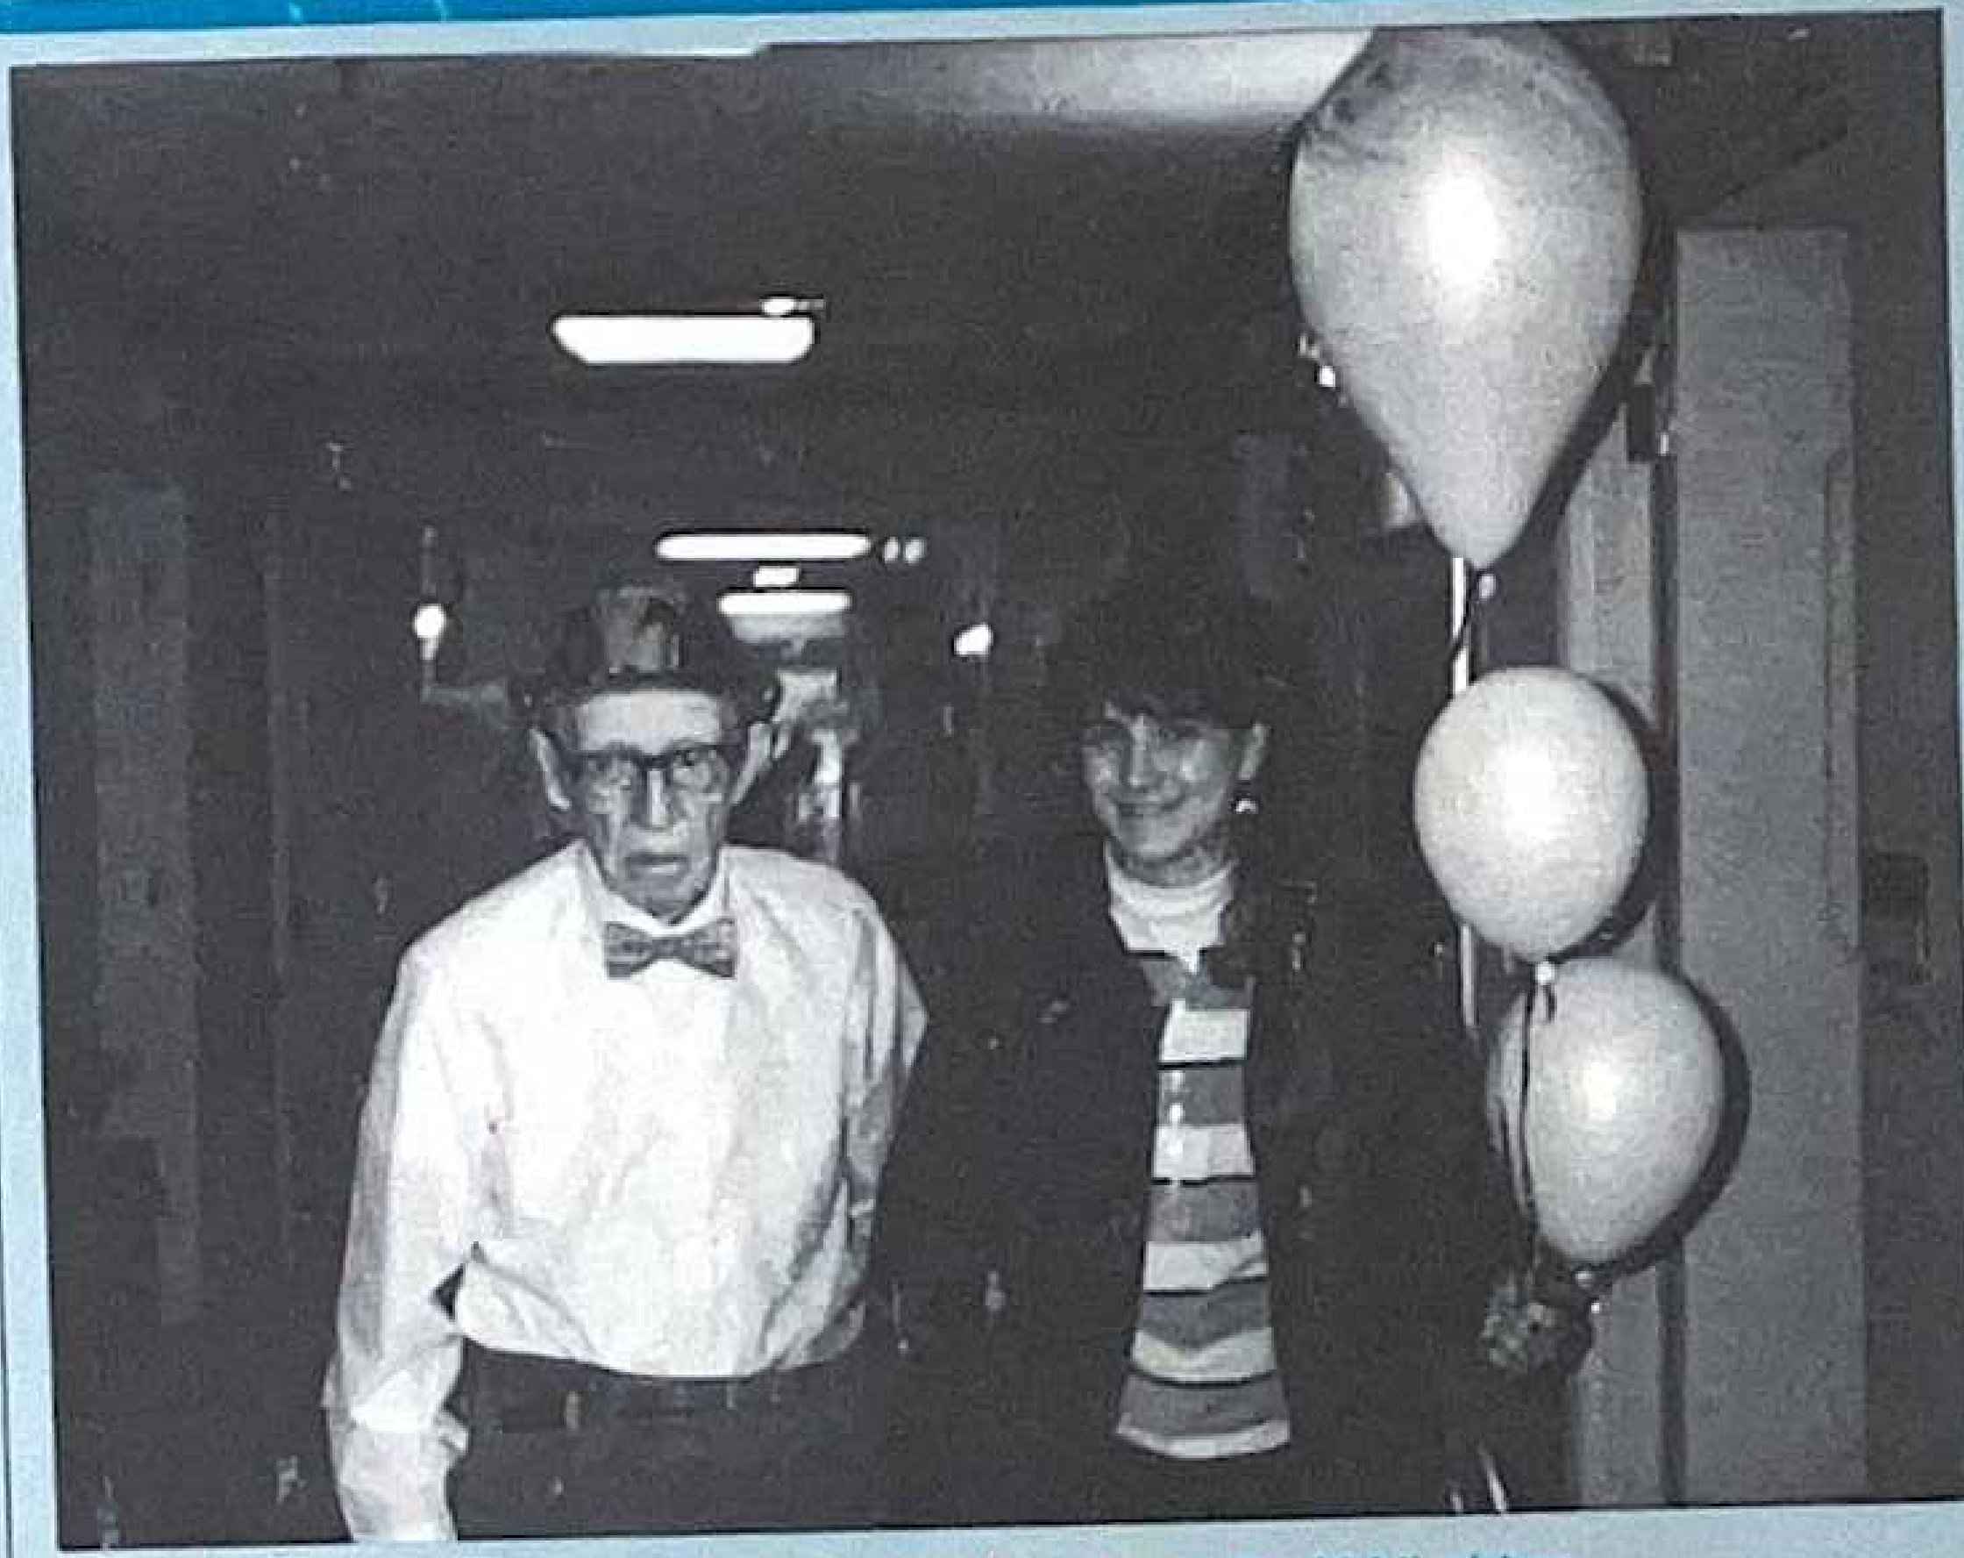
Key Club in Action

Key Club spreads Irish cheer



Shamrock balloons and festive hats convey "Luck o' the Irish" wishes.

As legend would have it, Saint Patrick planted shamrock (a small herb with three leaflets) in Ireland because the three small leaves represented the Holy Trinity. Many Irish—and non-Irish—believe the flower to bring good luck to the beholder. To even more persons the shamrock symbolizes St. Patrick's Day and a chance to wish others "Luck 'o the Irish to you."

Members of the Skyline High School Key Club in Longmont, Colorado, spread the spirit of St. Patrick's Day to the senior citizen residents of the Applewood Living Center this past March by distributing helium-filled balloons with bright green shamrock-shaped holiday notes attached.

"It was a worthwhile project because it brought a little life to the residents' day," says 1988-89 club vice-president Teresa DeJonge.

The Key Clubbers' visit was a welcomed surprise to the residents, who enjoyed the chance to talk and tell tales of their past St. Patrick's Day celebrations.

"It was great to see the smiles that just a balloon can bring," says 1988-89 club president Cheryl Dillion.

"The St. Patrick's Day project was a great opportunity to bring some happiness to people who normally are forgotten at holiday seasons," says club member Chris Rittner. "Both the members who participated in the project and the residents were able to get a little happiness from this project."

While the students walked the halls and passed out their festive gifts, they wished everyone a "Happy St. Patrick's Day."

Nursing home enjoys happy days

For some inhabitants of nursing homes, life offers only a solitary and sullen existence. Sterile, white walls; cold tile floors; and medicinal odors add to the sense of desolation and confinement. Days, weeks, months, and even years go by for some of the residents without so much as a phone call or greeting card from a concerned relative.

For these persons, faded pictures and memories of loved ones long departed must serve as substitutes, guarding against impending loneliness. The patients begin to wonder if happiness is a luxury reserved only for the young of age, and not for those who simply may be young at heart.

A little care, conversation, and a few rays of sunny optimism would be enough to brighten the lives of these residents. That was the goal of the St. Stanislaus High School Key Club of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, and that's what it accomplished.

This past May, in conjunction with International Service Day, the St. Stanislaus Key Clubbers, with help from the Mercy Cross Key Club and the Biloxi Key Club, sponsored a social for the residents of Miramar Nursing Home in Pas Christian, Mississippi. The all-purpose social, which included a barbecue and a mini-concert, succeeded in narrowing the generation gap by joining Key Clubbers with the elderly residents for a fun-filled fiesta.

The melodic voices of a barbershop quartet provided listening pleasure for ever-appreciative ears, while Key Clubbers delighted in playing chefs by barbecuing hamburgers and preparing side dishes. Other club members assisted patients in exiting the building so they could be revitalized by fresh air and sunshine.

"The residents like it a lot," says Sammy Russo, a lieutenant governor. "Everytime we go there, they're glad to see us."

The social was just one of many occasions the St. Stanislaus Key Clubbers have visited the nursing home. Twice a month, they indulge the residents in bingo games and prayer services. These biweekly visits are now routine for some Key Clubbers, who in the beginning, like many people, were apprehensive about visiting a nursing home.

"They were scared at first. They saw all the people in wheelchairs and didn't know what to do," Sammy says. "It touched them, and by the end of the year, they were at ease. They liked it a lot."

And now with their lives enriched by the kindness and compassion of the St. Stanislaus Key Clubbers, the residents of the Miramar Nursing Home truly can say happy days are here again.

Great job St. Stanislaus, Mercy Cross, and Biloxi H.S. for having y'all's joint project mentioned in the March Keynoter.

Key Clubbers at Ponchatoula H.S. held a canned food drive at school, raising over 1,000 by having a class competition. They also worked picking up trash along the highway.

Archbishop Chapelle Key Clubbers clean boards every week after school for the teachers. Students also clean the erasers and wipe out the chalk ledges.

White Station Key Clubbers in Memphis, TN, work at St. Jude's Hospital, helping out and playing with the children.

Key Clubbers at Brother Martin High School in New Orleans held a Gym Night with their Builder's Club. What a great way to promote K-Relations!

At West Monroe H.S. in Louisiana, Key Clubbers painted and distributed school garbage cans.

Baton Rouge High Key Clubbers sponsored a Blood Drive at their school.

Key Club events on tap

By Marc Distefano

The second semester promises additional Key Club projects that involve further service to the community and school.

Thus far, the Key Club has completed three major projects: the Martin Luther King prayer service, the Anti-Abortion Rally, and the Teacher Appreciation Week.

Other projects will include a Valentine's Day dance for the retired citizens of Miramar Nursing Home, with music by Fantasy, and a Mardi Gras ball for the retarded citizens of the community.

This semester promises to be a busy one for the Key Club. The organization is getting ready to induct new members, elect new officers, and most importantly, attend the district convention in Alexandria, La. where the club will be selecting officers to represent Key Club throughout the Louisiana-Mississippi-Tennessee area.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

ST. STANISLAUS STUDENT WINS TOP AWARD AT KEY CLUB CONVENTION:

Fourteen St. Stanislaus students were among 2,200 students who attended the 46th Annual LaMissTenn District Key Club Convention in Biloxi from March 31 to April 2. Johnny LaBruzzo won the Sandy Nininger Award and Sammy Russo was elected lieutenant-governor of District 14. Mickey Lagasse and Paul Johnson served as sergeants-at-arms for the convention. Other St. Stanislaus students attending the district convention were Marc Distefano, John Estay, Fred Fondren, Omer King Hebert, Noah Denson, Greg Schruff, Joe Williams, David Brock, Scott Niolet, and Nick Walker. Accompanying the students were Brother John Hotstream, moderator of the St. Stanislaus Key Club, and Brother William Leimbach, advisor. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Gulfport Kiwanis Club.

LaBruzzo, the son of Mr. John LaBruzzo of New Orleans and Mrs. Agnes Cannizzaro of Metairie, is a junior at St. Stanislaus. He was awarded the prestigious Sandy Nininger Award, which is given to a key club member who has been cited for extraordinary service in the community. It is given specifically to a member of the key club who is not in a leadership position but who exemplifies in an outstanding manner the qualities of generosity and service. LaBruzzo was cited for his work with the elderly at the Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian where he conducts a regular prayer service and a bingo.

SSC Key Club elects officers

The officers of the Key Club at St. Stanislaus High School for the 1989-90 school session are Marc Distefano, president; Paul Johnson, vice-president; John Estay, treasurer; Robert Schutt, recording secretary; and Noah Denson, corresponding secretary.

Senior Sammy Russo is lieutenant-governor of Division 14. There are 55 members in the St. Stanislaus Key Club, and Brother John Hotstream serves as faculty moderator.

Mark Distefano and Sammy Russo attended the 46th Annual Key Club International Convention in Orlando, Fla. from July 4-6. Theme for this year is "Develop Within...Share Throughout" which calls upon Key Club members to stress the program's goals of individuality, educated leadership, productive citizenship, and worthwhile service to people in the home, school and community as well as within themselves.

The St. Stanislaus Key Club will promote the program by working with the elderly, helping retarded citizens and involving themselves in community clean-up projects.

Key Club International, whose 125,000 members in 3,700 clubs worldwide annually provide more than six million hours of service, is the world's largest high school service organization. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

St. Stanislaus Key Club elects officers

BAY ST. LOUIS — Key Club officers for the 1989-90 session at St. Stanislaus High School are: Marc Distefano, president; Paul Johnson, vice-president; John Estay, treasurer; Robert Schutt, recording secretary; and Noah Denson, corresponding secretary. Senior Sammy Russo is lieutenant-governor of Division 14. There are presently 35 members in the St. Stanislaus Key Club. Brother John Hotstream serves as faculty moderator.

Distefano and Russo attended the 46th Annual Key Club International Convention in Florida last July.

This year's theme: "Develop Within ... Share Throughout" calls upon Key Club members to stress the program's goals of individuality, educated leadership, productive citizenship, and worthwhile service to people in the home, school and community, as well as within themselves. The St. Stanislaus Key Club will promote the program by working with the elderly, helping retarded citizens, and involving themselves in community cleanup projects.

Senior Johnny LaBruzzo was named St. Stanislaus Key Club member for the month of October, as a result of his leadership in working with the elderly at Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian where he conducts monthly bingo and prayer services. He also took part in the Key Club district rally where he won the Sandy Ninegar Award.

LaBruzzo, the son of Mrs. Agnes Cannizzaro of Metairie and Mr. John LaBruzzo of New Orleans, has lettered in varsity football and track. He is senior class secretary, a varsity cheerleader, and a member of S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk).

Key Club International, whose 125,000 members in 3,700 clubs worldwide annually provide more than six million hours of service, is the world's largest high school service organization. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

St. Stanislaus High School Key Club:

Thanks sincerely for your kind gift. In my accounting work I never have enough pens, especially red ones.

I would like to express my admiration for the wonderful and unselfish service that the SSC Key Club has offered to the school and to the local community since its inception.

Thanks and Congratulations,

Bro. mark, S.C.

Dear Key Club Members,

My writing is to say that the members of the Boarding Department enjoyed the pastries that you provided at our meeting today. It was thoughtful of you to express your appreciation this way.

Good luck with the many worthwhile projects that you have going and have planed.

Appreciatively,

Bro. Lee

To the Membership of the Key Club,

My writing is to thank you for the thoughtfullness and kindness of giving me a set of pens for teacher appreciation week. It is appreciated. Keep up the fine work of the many people-to-people projects that you do. You are doing the corporal and spiritual works of mercy.

Appreciatively,

Bro. Lee

Dear Bro. John and Key Club –

The cast and crew of "Annie Get Your Gun" thanks you greatly for preparing the cups of ice for us during the intermission!!! We also appreciate you handling sales + preparation of drinks for the audience as well.

Many Thanks!

Dear John,

Thanks a million for everything the other night. The kids really enjoyed it.

The other note is to put in your scrapbook if you all are keeping one.

Mary Ann Miller is the lady at Covenant House who was a nun associated with Vandebilt when Gap was the Principal there.

The man I was telling you about is Ernest Bugg. He is hard to get on the phone, but keep trying. Use the expression..."We'd like to set up an exchange between Stanislaus and Covenant House." (The phone number there is 584 1111.)

He'll have to bring the idea to a meeting, but maybe something can be worked out.

I'll be in touch with you about a date for next month with the Odyssey kids.

Thanks again.

Dear Brother John,

I wanted to write to thank you and the members of the Key Club for being so kind to the young people from Odyssey House.

They were very enthusiastic on the way home about all the different activities which they experienced at Stanislaus.

I'm sure we can set up something for them again in September if you can fit it in your schedule.

Again, many thanks.

Sincerely,

Advice

14-year-old poet has wisdom well beyond teen-age years

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: You frequently print poems you think are worth sharing with your readers, so I am sending you one written by my grandson, Jason Lehman. He is 14 years old and lives in New Haven, Conn. I hope you think it's worth printing.

Irene Lehman, Pompano Beach

Dear Mrs. Lehman: I do. But I must confess I had difficulty believing that a 14-year-old could view life from such a mature and philosophical perspective, so (with your permission) I telephoned Jason and told him I thought his poem was extraordinary. I also said I planned to publish it, so if he didn't compose it, to please fess up or the repercussions could be very embarrassing. Jason assured me that he was, indeed, the author, so here's the poem from a talented young poet who I think is wise beyond his years:

Present Tense:

It was spring,
But it was summer I wanted,
The warm days,
And the great outdoors.
It was summer,
But it was fall I wanted,
The colorful leaves,
And the cool, dry air.
It was fall,
But it was winter I wanted,
The beautiful snow,
And the joy of the holiday season.
It was winter,
But it was spring I wanted,
The warmth,
And the blossoming of nature.
I was a child,
But it was adulthood I wante
The freedom,
And the respect.
I was 20,
But it was 30 I wanted,
To be mature,
And sophisticated.
I was middle-aged,
But it was 20 I wanted,
The youth,
And the free spirit.
I was retired,
But it was middle age I wante

Dear Abby: I'm an average person, except that I don't like "socializing."

I am running out of excuses and do not want to lie — but I don't want to offend people who are kind enough to extend an invitation that means nothing to me, but much more to them.

Can you suggest an appropriate, diplomatic, all-purpose response?

Anti-Social Butterfly

Dear Anti-Social: Try this: "Thank you very much, but I have other plans." While this may not be the gospel truth, neither is it a bald-faced lie; you could plan to wash your undies, read a book, watch your favorite TV show, or just get a good night's sleep.

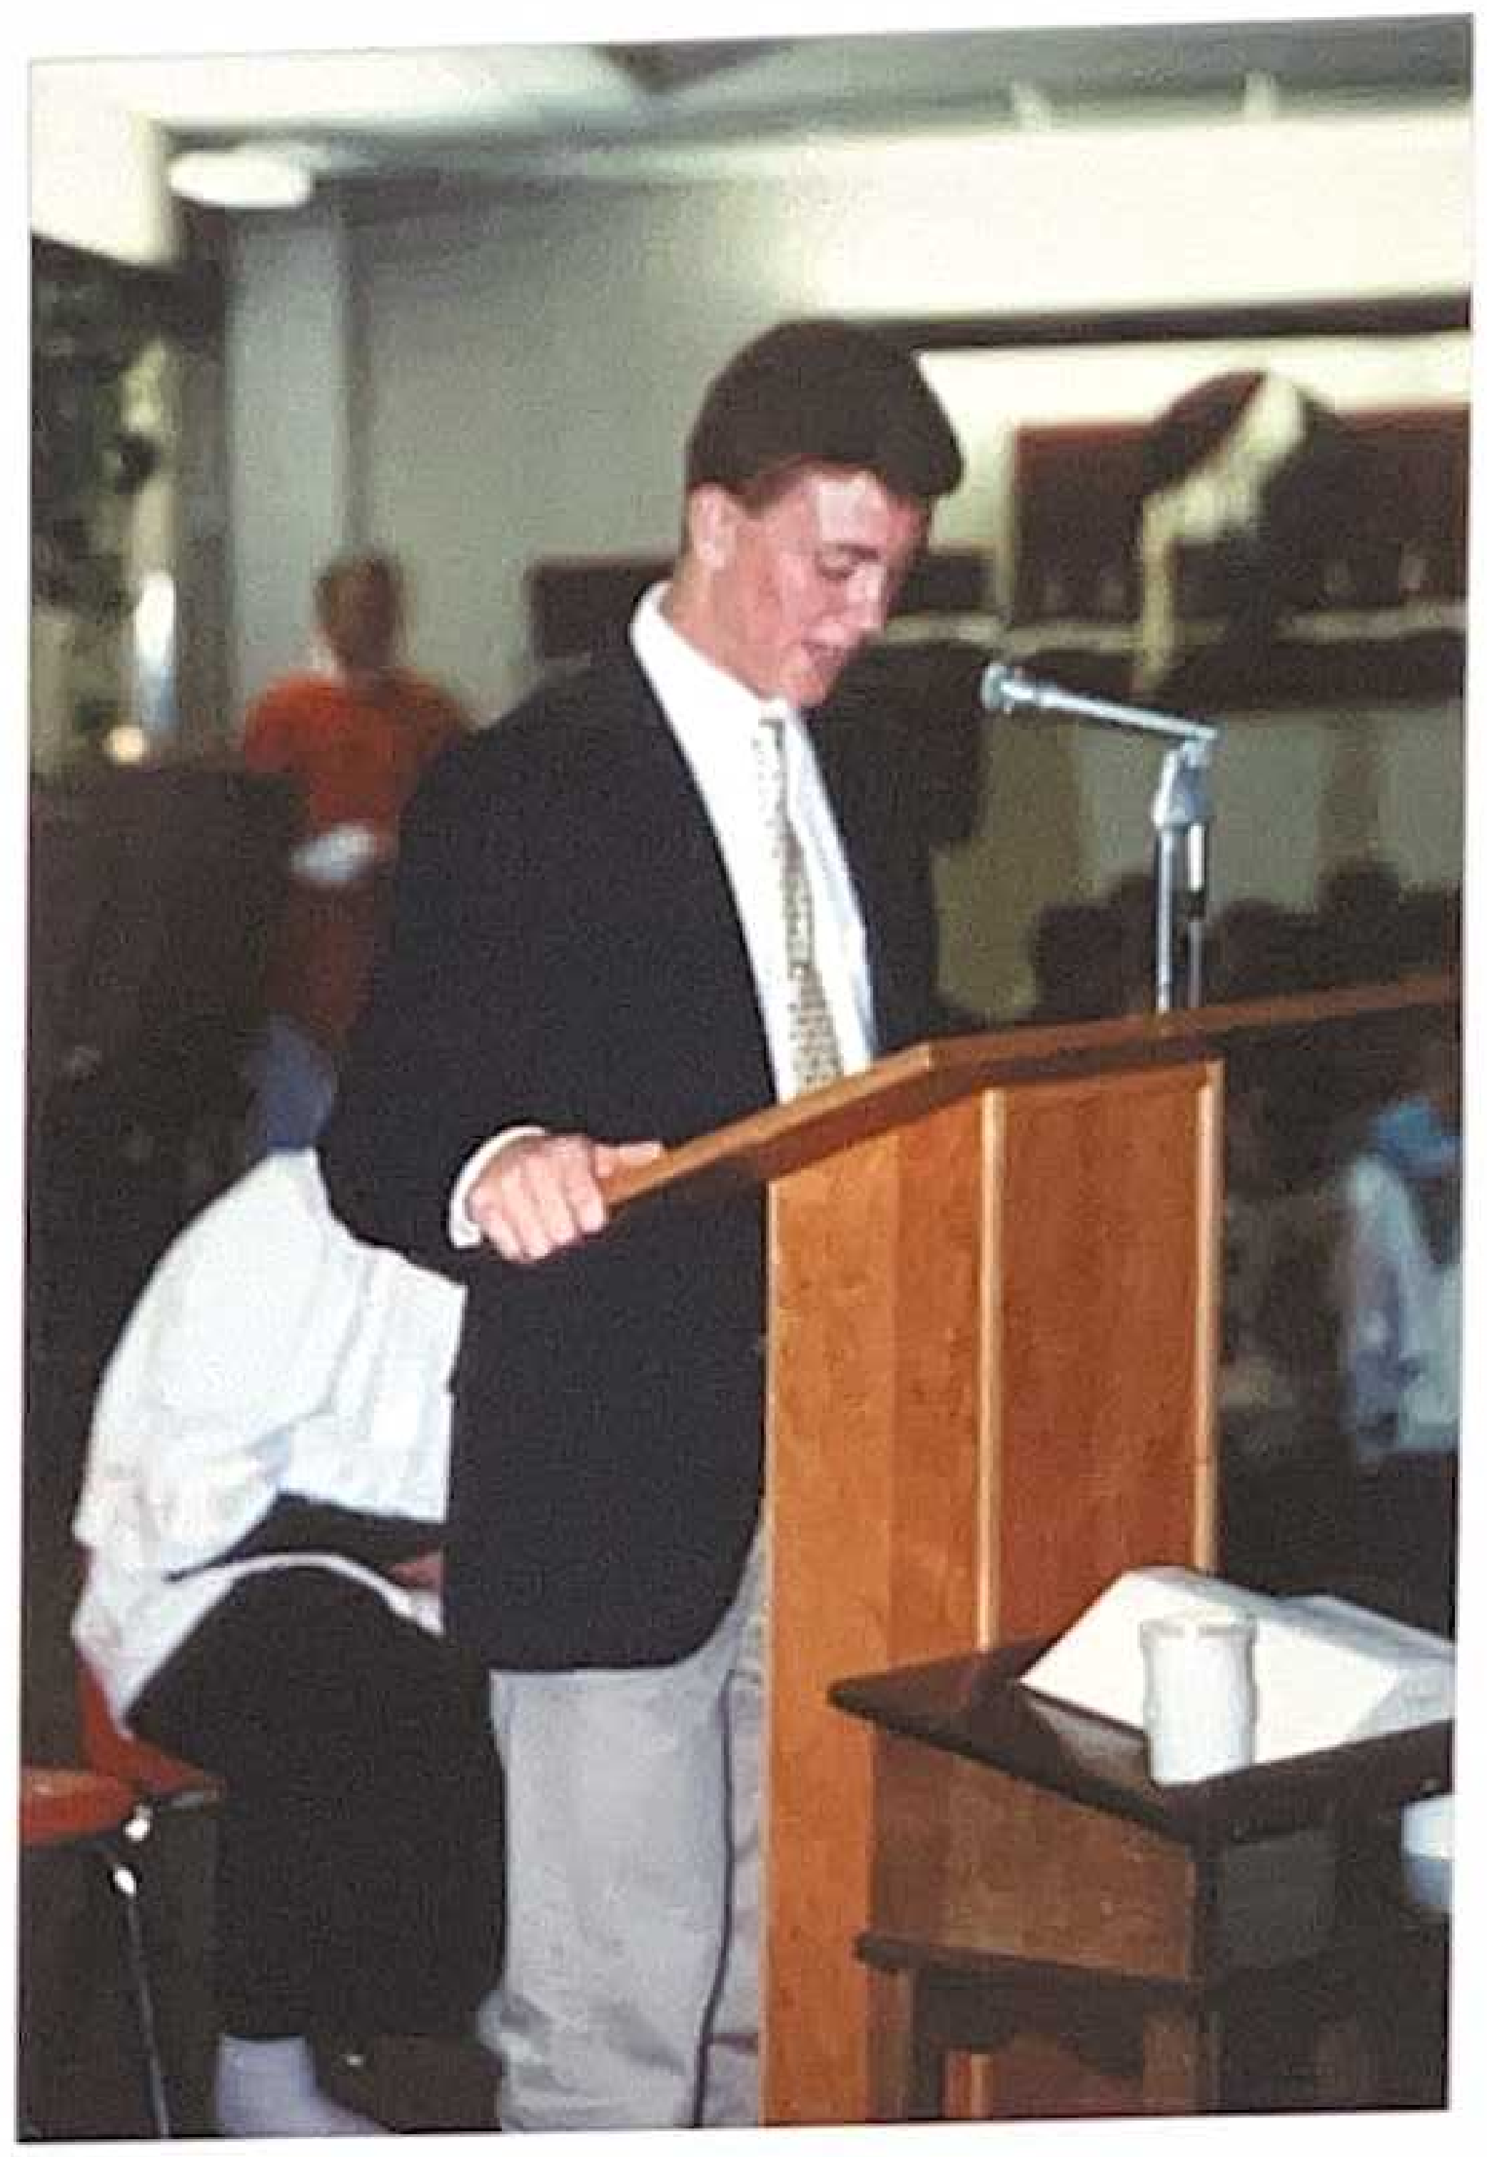
Dear Abby: I have another point of view concerning whether or not to tell a person that he or she has a terminal illness. I have been an ambulance operator for 14 years and have transported hundreds of patients to clinics for their appointments.

Quite often I have been met at the door by family members who will confide that the patient has a terminal illness, then they instruct me to please not mention

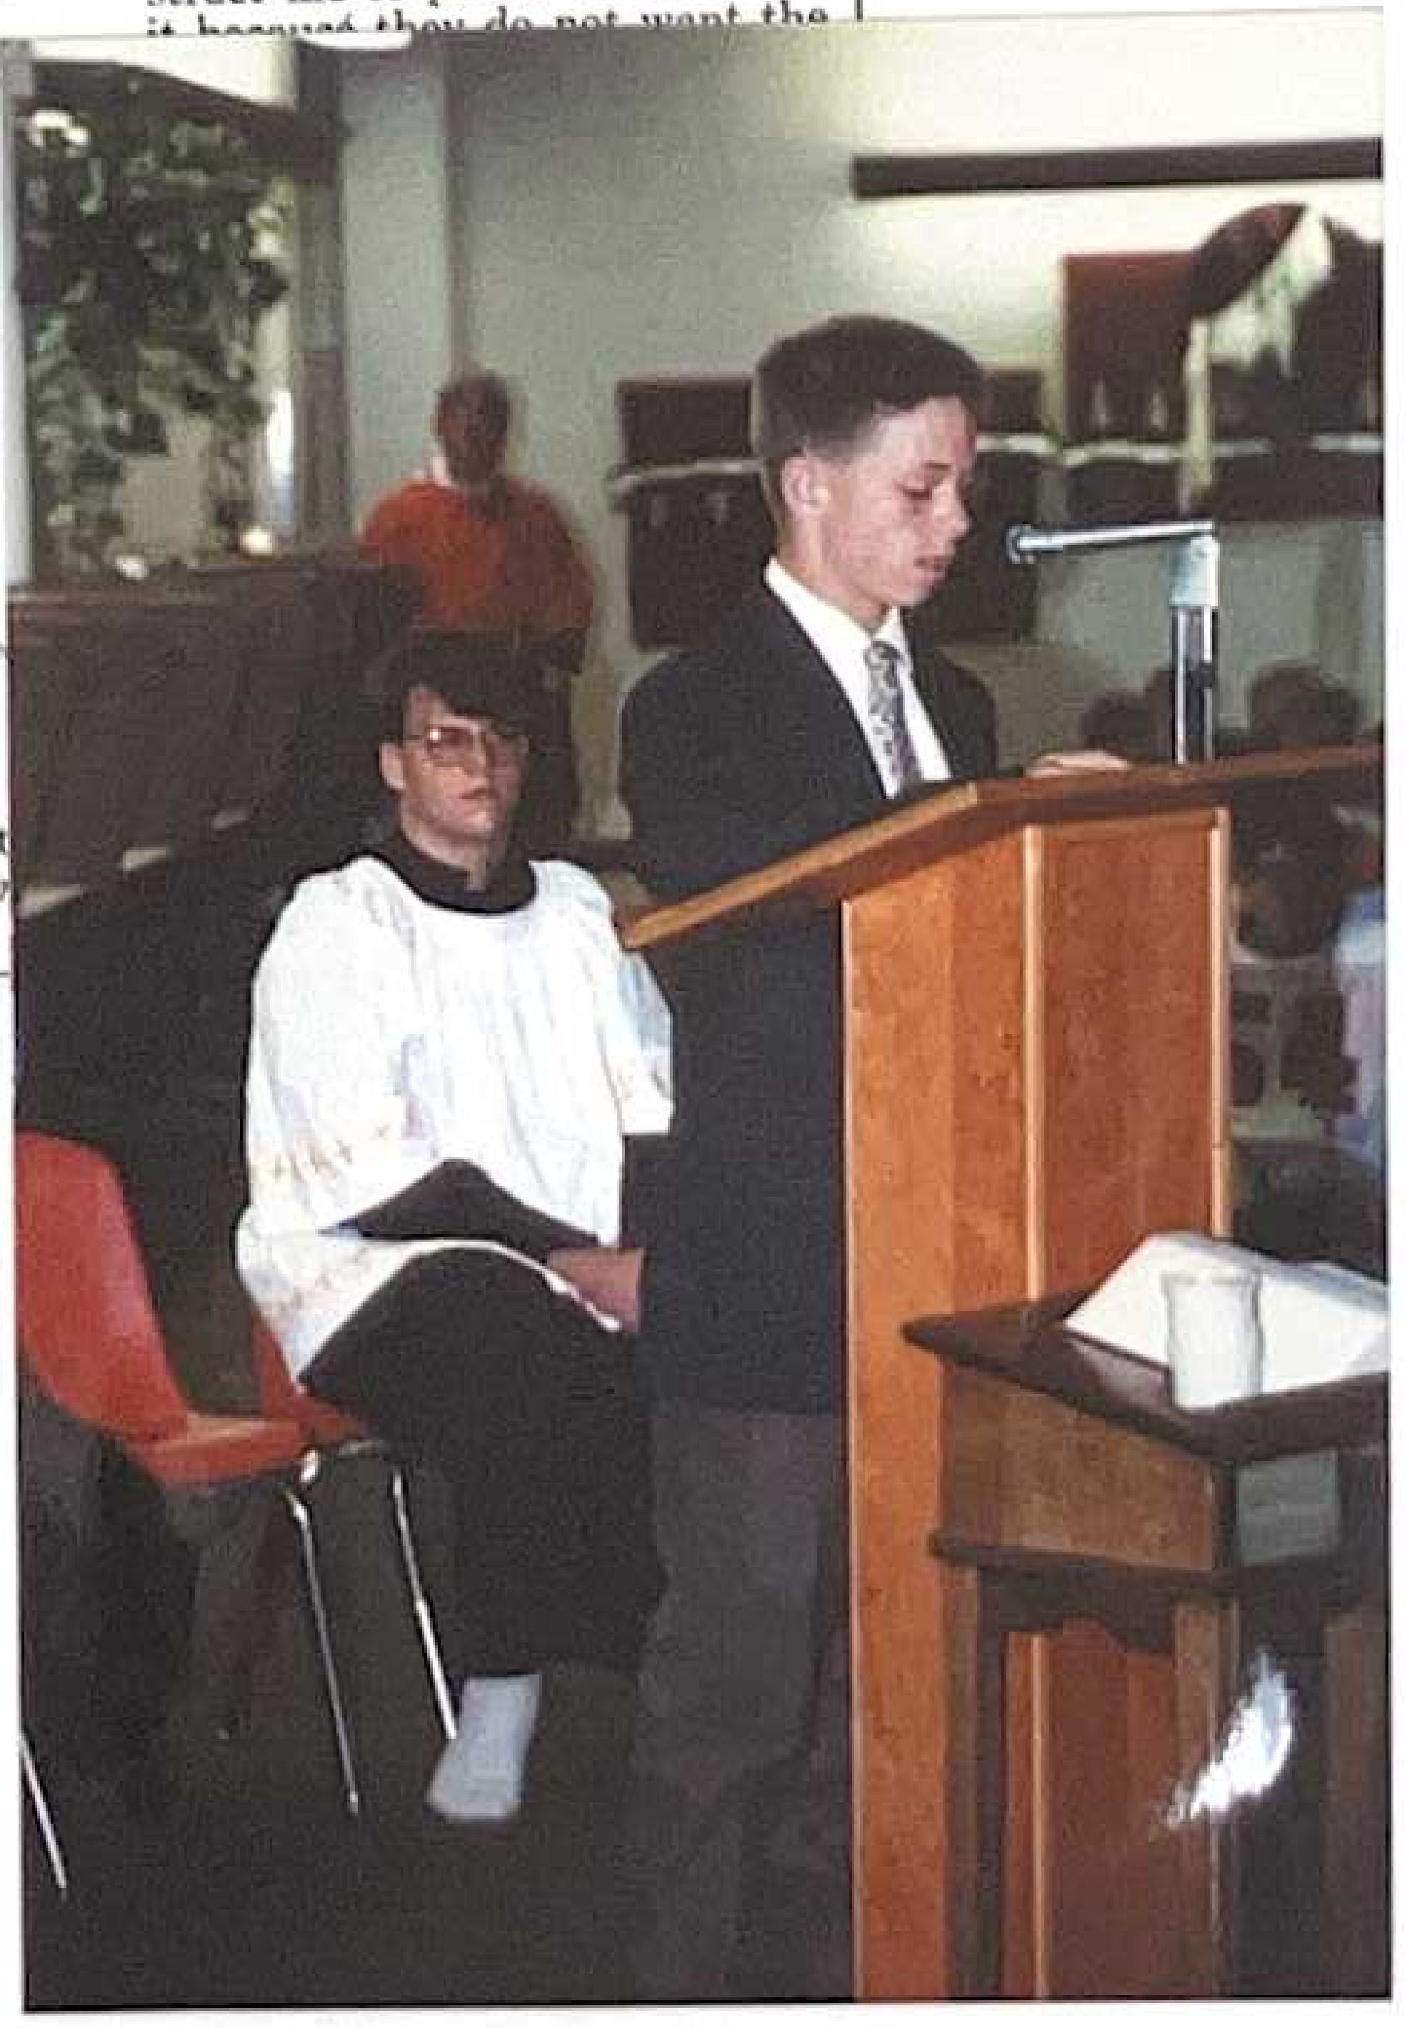


A Russian soldier's prayer

We have been sent a translation of a remarkable poem that was found on a young Russian soldier killed in action in 1944. His name was Alexander Zatzepa, and the translation is by Katia Nabokoff. The rest speaks for itself:

Hear me, O God; never in the whole of my lifetime have I spoken to you.
But just now I feel like sending you my greetings.
You know, from childhood on they've always told me you are not . . .
I, like a fool, believed them.
I've never contemplated your creation. And yet, tonight, gazing up out of my shell-hole, I marvelled at the shimmering stars above me, and suddenly knew the cruelty of the lie.
Will you, my God, reach your hand out to me, I wonder?
But I will tell you, and you will understand.
Is it not strange that light should come upon me
And I see you amid this night of hell?
And there is nothing else I have to say . . .
This, though: I'm glad that I have learned to know you.
At midnight we are scheduled to attack. But you are looking on and I am not afraid.
The signal . . . : well, I guess I must be going.
I have been happy with you . . . .
This more I want to say:
As you well know, the fighting will be cruel
And even tonight I may come knocking at your door.
Although I have not been a friend to you before.
Still, will you let me enter now, when I do come?
Why, I am crying. O God, my Lord. You see what happens to me;
Tonight my eyes were opened.

Farewell, my God. I'm going and am not likely to come back.
Strange, is it not? But death I fear no longer.



Why was a boy of his youth riding with the dirt-tough motorcycle gang, trying to be the loudest of the lot?

The Lady and the Biker

Condensed from
The Harper Herald

Martha Sweeney

I was alone in the coin laundry a short distance from town. It was a muggy midsummer day, and the only sound in the steamy-hot, soap-smelling room was the sloshing and swooshing of the washing machines. I stood in the comparative cool of the open doorway and idly watched the traffic go by.

Suddenly, half a dozen motorcycles came roaring down the highway and pulled in at the gas station next door. The riders were a boisterous, rough looking lot, talking loudly and profanely.

I had a moment of apprehension. Except for the station's attendant, no one else was in sight. I doubted if the bikers would respect my gray hair and elderly figure if they were intent on mischief.

However, it seemed this bunch only wanted gas. While the attendant took care of that, they guzzled drinks and munched on candy bars from coin-operated dispensers.

One of the riders, younger than the others—he looked no more than 17 underneath the cockiness and unkempt hair—was the loudest and most vulgar. He strutted about with an air of bravado, as if to prove himself the toughest of the tough.

I wondered what a boy of his youth was doing with a rowdy motorcycle gang. Excitement? Adventure? At that moment, he glanced toward me and grew still, as if suddenly aware of his crudeness. Leaning against the gas-station wall, he looked around at the few business buildings and cluster of neat homes that formed our little town. His eyes took in the green and golden fields that rolled up to a rim of blue hills.

When all of the motorcycles had been serviced, their owners

Teacher Appreciation Week is filled with activity

By Robert Schutt

The Key Club and the National Honor Society teamed up to honor the faculty and administration during the occasion of National Teacher Appreciation Week, Jan. 21-27.

Omer King Hebert, chairman of the project for the Key Club, and Michael Cromwell, president of the National Honor Society, worked with the assigned committee to show the custodians, secretaries, members of the administration, kitchen staff, teachers, coaches, librarians, and prefects how the students appreciate the work that these individuals carry out day after day.

The custodians were given a king cake. Members of the administration received a pen; the kitchen staff, candy; and the secretaries, a rose. The teachers, coaches, and librarians were presented a certificate guaranteeing them one hour of service from any Key Club members, while the prefects received a king cake.

All the Key Clubs around the nation are honoring their faculty and administration for their respective roles in helping educate the youth of the nation.

Dear Members of the Key Club,

I would like to thank you so much for making Thursday May 18, 1989 such a memorable accasion for the special students of the Bay-Waveland area. We appreciate all the trouble that the Key Club went through on short notice, to put together a picnic for us. We also appreciate all the trouble the Lagasses and Brother John went through to make this picnic a success.

Thank you so much for having us. We really enjoyed it.

Dear Bro Hotstream,

Thanks for your $230 gift to help the kids at our New Orleans center.

Our residential crisis center has been opened for over a year now, but for months before that we had been helping kids in the area with a "drop-in" center. One of the kids we helped was Denny.

Denny had been on the street for a couple of years after being abused by his father and molested by his mother. He was addicted to cocaine and mainlining speed.

He now has an apartment and a full-time job. Best of all, he's drug-free!

Thanks for helping kids like Denny. Please pray for them. I'm praying for you!

Dear Friends,

January brings a new year, a new decade, and a new spirit of hope. For our kids, it is a time when everyone else seems in step with them. For them, it is always a movement toward renewal, a step toward a fresh start.

A visitor saw some kids at our bi-monthly ROP dinner the other night and remarked, "They look so good, so well-dressed and professional." And so they are. Yet underneath is still a scared, hurt street kid only now beginning to feel good about themselves.

Thanks for your gift and for your prayers. You bring the vehicle of hope to our kids--and they now have a good chance at a happy new year, a great new decade, and hopes for the future. I wish you a happy new year, and please know that you are in my prayers.

HOW TO MAKE ANGER WORK

DO YOU EVER FEEL BAD ABOUT BEING ANGRY AND KEEP QUIET? THOUGH IT'S EASY TO SAY THINGS IN ANGER THAT YOU DON'T MEAN, ANGER CAN ALSO SPARK TALKS THAT WILL HELP YOU AND SOMEONE YOU LOVE KNOW EACH OTHER BETTER. SOME GUIDELINES...

- WHEN YOU GET MAD, DON'T BLAME OR ACCUSE. SAY HOW YOU FEEL -- ANNOYED, IRRITATED, UPSET, ETC. -- AND WHY. BE SPECIFIC. TALK FACTS.
- THINK SOLUTION, NOT VICTORY. DON'T TRY TO "WIN" ARGUMENTS.
- STICK TO THE PRESENT INCIDENT.
- BE CAREFUL NOT TO ATTACK SOMEONE'S PERSON OR CHARACTER. SAY "I'M FURIOUS THAT YOU DIDN'T CLEAN UP AFTER THE MESS YOU MADE" -- NOT "YOU'RE A LAZY SLOB!"
- IF THE SITUATION IS TOUCHY, PUT YOUR IDEAS IN A LETTER. YOU CAN SAY EXACTLY WHAT YOU MEAN -- AND THE OTHER PERSON WILL HAVE TIME TO THINK IT OVER BEFORE ANSWERING.

INTRODUCTION

In today's society a child can do or be almost anything. There is one thing that can stop them from it - a terminal illness. To them, a dream come true is only a miracle, since often the parents spend so much money on hospitals, that they cannot afford it. Often the children just do not have enough time. Transforming these dreams into reality is the job of these organizations. The Child's Last Wish Organization of New Orleans, the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Biloxi, and the Dream Factory of Memphis all help dying children get their last wish in life. As LAMISSTENN's District Project for 1989-1990, we are going to raise money through divisional and club projects. During Key Club Week, November 9-12, LAMISSTENN is going to put on a District Project Service Week, in which each club is required to put on a fundraiser.

Dear Brother John,

Another year has passed, almost, and we find ourselves thinking of outings for the children.

Shane will be home on Friday April 14th. We will take him to Bay St. Louis on Sunday April 16th, leaving here around 9:00 a.m. We should be at Bay St. Louis around 12 noon, or a little before that.

This year has been a very crowded, and busy one - never enough time to get everything done.

Presently, we have sixteen children. Six had an outing last Saturday so ten will have it this Sunday, plus 4 adults. We will stay until 4:00 p.m. They talk about, and look forward to, the sand and sea. If you can assign one Key Club member per child and have him responsible for that child it should work very well. We are grateful for your help and continued interest in the children.

Sincerely,

Sister Rosario

It's time for Operation Dear Abby

Dear Readers: Can you believe it's time for Operation Dear Abby V? Again, we will join forces with the America Remembers campaign whose national chairman is still Donald P. Grimes. Last year, Operation Dear Abby sent more than 6 million pieces of mail to our servicemen and women stationed in Japan, Korea, Iceland and Europe, as well as to those serving in the Mediterranean and Indian Ocean. Tons of letters and packages were dropped from helicopters to aircraft carriers to cheer those who had been deployed for months.

Schoolteachers made classroom projects of writing to our servicemen and women who would be far from home during the holidays. Men, women and children who enjoyed baking sent cookies, brownies and fruitcakes. (The elderly residents of the Jewish Center for the Aged in St. Louis baked kosher cookies!)

I received hundreds of heartwarming pictures of men and women in uniform, gathered around tables on which were piled literally thousands of letters and cards. Many wrote to describe how everyone frantically searched for envelopes bearing the postmark of their hometowns — or states. Veterans of World War II, the Korean War and Vietnam wrote to give our young servicemen and women a lift because they remember how sad it was to be half a world away from home over the holidays.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

Last year, at least 100 long-distance romances blossomed through the exchange of pictures and letters (They honored me with invitations to their weddings!) This year, more than 200,000 troops will participate in the program. Please join me in this campaign to let our servicemen and women know that you remember and appreciate them. Send as many Hanukkah and Christmas cards as you can. In previous years, hundreds of readers wrote to say that they were overwhelmed at the responses they received from grateful servicemen and women. Write to as many as you can. I can't guarantee that every letter will be answered. Last year, one ship with only 500 men aboard received 60,000 pieces of mail!

DEAR RELIGION TEACHER:

Once again, we ask your help for a very worthy cause--we are asking you to help out with "Operation Dear Abby" by taking some time out of your class to have students write a card or letter, WISHING SOME SERVICEMAN (person) A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR. These military personel will not be home on Christmas; rather they will be spread over the world safeguarding American interests.

Please help the students to take this task very seriously-could mean a lot to a lonely person away from home.

WHAT TO WRITE?

1st, tell the person about yourself, your intere

Paul,

Our squadron picked up a bunch of letters from your school. I read through a few, and when I saw Metallica I grabbed it. So many of the cards are from three year olds who are in preschool. I didnt think teenagers even knew about it. You must have a teacher who made you do it for a grade.

Thanks. Everyone thinks the letters are cool. We're 16,017 miles from home, or thats how many more we have to travel before we pull in to Norfolk, and we get thousands of these cards to Dear Sailor, its a trip.

My Name is Allan, I'm 19 years old, I work the flight deck as a Plane Captain. We're the ones with brown jerseys. If you see any films about, or showing the flight deck you'll see us carrying chains or wiping a canopy or something. I like, The Cult, The Cure, Metallica, The Smiths, AC/DC and anything else hard rock or new wave. Country is definately a "No". Bluegrass and that stuff Cajuns down ~~there~~ play I dont go for either.

You're pretty accurate in your letter, on christmas my friends from the squadron Tom and I were together in Singapore talking about all the outrageous parties going on back home. Me and a few other of my friends are from Missouri. I'm from Joplin. [redacted] stupid

Oh, well I gotta get to bed, I hope you got a good grade on your card.

GUIDE TO MARINE DEBRIS

The best data recording can be done if you know what the items listed on your cards look like.

Here are some examples of unusual items you may find.

Light Sticks. Listed under plastic, these clear plastic tubes about 6 inches long are mostly used by fishermen. When new, the liquid will glow in the dark and attract fish to baited hooks.

Write Protection Rings. Listed under plastic, these are used on computer tapes on ships doing seismic testing.

6-Pack Rings. Listed under plastic, these items are used to hold cans.

Wooden Pallets. Listed under wood, these items are used to help stack and transport cargo.

Strapping Bands. Listed under plastic, these strong, narrow, light-weight plastic bands are used to bind materials and boxes.

55 Gallon Drums. Listed under metal, these drums could contain dangerous chemicals. Do not go near a drum because the vapor or liquid could hurt you.

Vegetable Sacks. Listed under plastic, these large mesh bags are used to hold bulk quantities of onions, potatoes, or fruit.

Sea Whip. This yellow, orange or purple colony of animals is long, thin and has a dark string-like core. This may look like wire or rope, but it is a natural item found from North Carolina to the Gulf of Mexico. Please leave this on the beach.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

Do not approach any 55 gallon drums. They may contain dangerous liquids. Even the vapor could harm you. Leave the drum, but record it on your card.

Do not go into the dunes: snakes may be there.

Be very careful of broken glass and other sharp objects.

Wear gloves.

Don't lift anything heavy.

To the Editor:

Parents and Professionals of Exceptional Children would like the community to know about the wonderful teenagers in the St. Stanislaus Key Club under the direction of Brother John Hotstream.

On Halloween night, these teenagers arranged a Halloween dance with Fantasy D. J. supplying music for these special children and adults.

The Key Club had decorated the hall, supplied refreshments, danced with their guests and took special interest to make sure everyone had a good time. After the dance, they also took on the responsibility of cleaning up.

I am always very impressed with their eagerness to help us organize activities. Mickey Lagasse has many times attended our organizational meetings to give us suggestions and offer assistance.

Our community is fortunate to have such an outstanding group of teenagers in our area.

Dear Bro. John + Key Club Members,

The Parents and Professionals of Exceptional Children would like to thank you for the wonderful evening you planned for the children. The food you prepared and served was enjoyed by all. The ball game you played with the children brought much delightment and enjoyment to the children.

We think the Key Club members are outstanding young men and are proud of the wonderful deeds they do in the community.

Transportation needs: Please let Brother Noel know today (Monday) if you have any bus or van needs for this or next week so that he can arrange schedules prior to his leaving Wednesday morning.

Mardi Gras Ball: Special congratulations and thanks to Brother John and our Key Club for the wonderful afternoon of fun and excitement they provided for the retarded citizens of our area with the Mardi Gras Ball. Thanks also to Beverly who arranged for members of Nereids to provide entertainment and to Mike for music.

Basketball ends: Our basketball season came to an end with our loss to South Pike in the play-offs. Congratulations and many thanks once again to Chuck and Jerry for the tremendous season we enjoyed. And thanks to Larry, Andy, and Brother Raymond for their respective teams' fine seasons.

Baseball, tennis, and track begin: Best of luck to Jerry, Rory, and Mick as we now move full-swing into both junior varsity and varsity baseball action; to Myron and our tennis team which has already seen action; and to Larry and Andy as track officially gets going Friday with a meet at St. Paul's in Covington.

Dear Brother John:

Thank you so much for the Mardi Gras dance February 21, 1990. As always, our clients had a wonderful time. They talk about the "fun dance" for weeks and beg to go again.

At South Mississippi Retardation Center we strive to guide our clients toward a normalized lifestyle. Your club's invitations allows them exposure that aids in this effort. We hope you gain as much insight to the reality of the Mentally Retarded population as we gain in socialization skills.

If anytime you need a program about our facility or by our clients, please contact me.

you for your generosity.

Key Club sponsors a Mardi Gras ball at SSC

By Marc Distefano

In mid-February, the St. Stanislaus Key Club hosted a Mardi Gras ball and dance for the residents of the South Mississippi Retardation Center and handicapped citizens of the Bay-Waveland area.

The guests were escorted and seated for the presentation in the mall by Key Clubbers dressed in various costumes.

After everyone was seated, members of the Krewe of Nereids paraded around the mall area to the theme of the Wizard of Oz.

After the presentation, the guests were again escorted to the dance floor and danced to music played by Fantasy. Refreshments were served periodically during the intermissions between songs.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS FIELD DAY
MAY 6, 1989

Welcome to the Navy/SSC Special Olympics Field Day.

We are sure that every Special Olympics Athlete will benefit from and enjoy the competitive games and the special events scheduled throughout the day.

This Special Olympics Field Day is the result of outstanding efforts by the Olympics Committee, with the support of hundreds of Navy/SSC employees and our many good friends and neighbors.

We feel that the Special Olympics Oath says it all: "Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Thank you for joining us in this very special event.

Dear Athletes and Friends of Special Olympics,

It has been my experience that each year's Navy/SSC Special Olympic Games is better and more exciting than the last. My congratulations to all whose dedication, hard work, and generous contributions have gone into making this event a reality.

I hope each of you - volunteers, spectators, parents, coaches, and athletes - will experience the true spirit of Special Olympics.

Hurricane survivors are growing desperate

By The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Tap water became safe, some stores reopened Tuesday and a ton of catfish was on its way to ease the plight of this city's hurricane survivors, but 80 percent remained without power and stricken outlying areas grew desperate.

Generators and other necessities poured in to this historic port from around the nation. The Mississippi Agriculture Department arranged to send a ton of donated catfish along with cooks to fry it and serve it with hush puppies, the region's beloved cornmeal side dish.

While Charleston regained some services, the picture was bleaker in isolated areas.

"We have no ice, no lights and we're low on batteries," St. Stephen Mayor Bobby Hoffman said. "Everything is funneled to Charleston, but we had a hurricane, too. People are desperate. They're going to panic."

He said roads were still blocked by downed trees, making it impossible to reach some people in the town of about 2,000 bordering the Francis Marion National Forest north of Charles-

Power was restored to about 80,000 people in the Carolinas, but at least 480,000 remained without service. It could be a month before full service is restored.

In Charlotte, N.C., Duke Power Co. said it had restored power to about 75,000 customers out of 230,000 who lost it. The others, including Duke Power Chairman Bill Lee and his family, may have to wait up to two weeks, she said.

In Charleston, lines for water and ice were shorter as more stores opened and the city's water supply became potable.

"They're settling down today. Yesterday, they were kind of pushy," said Walt Gilstrap at a Winn-Dixie supermarket in North Charleston.

One arrest was reported for price gouging. A tree-clearing company told a homeowner it would cost $22,000 to clear a yard of some trees, Mayor Joseph Riley Jr. said.

About 650 Department of Defense personnel were being sent to assist in the relief effort, while the Mormon Church shipped water, food, cooking stoves, power generators, propane fuel and tools.

The Fulton County Schools in lanta offered to open its ware- with $4 million in supplies to schools damaged in the storm.

Gov. Carroll Campbell announced the state would hire some of the estimated 224,000 workers displaced by the storm to help with cleanup efforts.

President Bush on Tuesday expanded his earlier disaster declaration to include five more South Carolina counties, bringing to 12 the number eligible for federal money. Banks began offering low-interest loans to those ineligible for federal aid, including $1.35 billion in below-market rate loans from NCNB.

Black community leaders met in Columbia to discuss how to coordinate and spread relief efforts to rural areas.

"My people in McClellanville do not have water, they do not have food, no clothes. There are those who are sick and who do not have money to buy medicine," said the Rev. George Thomas, who lives in the town of 500.

In Sumter, the scene was "very chaotic," the Rev. Frank Maddox said.

The Army Corps of Engineers began work on a temporary pontoon bridge to link devastated Isle of Palms and Sullivan's Island to the mainland again, but the coastal resort of Garden City remained closed and guarded by troops against looters.

To:
The Key Club and Evelyn,

Thank you very much for the check. It enabled me to get the electrical repair made so I can have the lights cut on in the brick house.

Best wishes to all of you and may God Bless You.

SPECIAL NEWS BULLETIN

ALLEN MOORE, high school football player at Northeast Lauderdale High School near Meridian, is paralyzed from the neck down from an injury that occurred on September 22 in a game against South Leake. His injury is very much like that of Chucky Mullins of Ole Miss.

His coach, Tack Moore (no relation), reports that all available insurance has been used up. He is covered under a catastrophic plan through the National Federation of High School Sports, but from past experience with this type coverage, it takes 2 to 3 y s to settle. When settled, it will be far short of what is needed.

This is a special plea for each member of our association to conduct some type c drive in your school for Allen. Some suggestions:

Get your football team or other teams to conduct a drive in your school or co nity;

Pass the hat at several basketball games;

Ask students to skip lunch one day and contribute that amount;

Ask all civic clubs in your town to take up donations;

Ask local news media for help.

Our goal is $100,000. Send funds to:

Allen Moore Foundation Fund
Bank of Meridian
P.O. Box 1271
Meridian, MS 39302

The M.A.C. will begin sending $150 per month as soon as a medical statement is received from Allen's doctors. These funds will come from our Memorial Athletic Benefit Plan.

For more information, call Coach Julius (Tack) Moore at 601-679-8523 or Bernard Blackwell at 601-924-0734.

PRO LIFE RALLY

JOHN LABRUZZO: GOOD EVENING, THANK YOU ALL FOR BEING HERE TO SHOW YOUR SUPPORT FOR LIFE. WE ARE ALL HERE AS A MATTER OF CONSCIENCE--WE BELIEVE IN THE DIGNITY OF HUMAN LIFE--THE RIGHTS OF THE UNBORN, AS WELL AS THE RIGHTS OF THE BORN. WE BELIEVE THAT WHENEVER A BASIC RIGHT IS TAKEN AWAY, WE ALL SUFFER.

SO IN CONSCIENCE, WE PUBLICLY TAKE THIS STAND, TO SHOW OUR COMMUNITY WHERE WE STAND. WE BEGIN WITH PRAYER.

JOHN LABRUZZO: Marc Distefano will lead us in prayer:

MARC DISTEFANO: FATHER, WE THANK YOU FOR THE GIFT OF OUR LIVES. WE PRAY THAT RESPECT FOR LIFE WILL GROW IN OUR COUNTRY, THAT FAMILIES WILL ONCE AGAIN BECOME STRONG, THAT THE RIGHTS OF THE UNBORN WILL BE PROTECTED, THAT THE ELDERLY, THE SHUT INS, THE MINORITY GROUPS WILL FIND VOICES TO REPRESENT THEM. THIS EVENING, WE ESPECIALLY REMEMBER THE NATIONS OF THE UNBORN THAT HAVE BEEN KILLED, THAT HAVE NOT BEEN GIVEN THE CHANCE TO LIVE, ENTIRE NATIONS. WE PRAY FOR AN END TO THIS KILLING.

AND FATHER, HELP EACH ONE OF US HERE TO GROW IN COMMITMENT TO HUMAN LIFE, TO THE DIGNITY OF HUMAN LIFE. LET THIS TRULY BEGIN WITH EACH OF US.

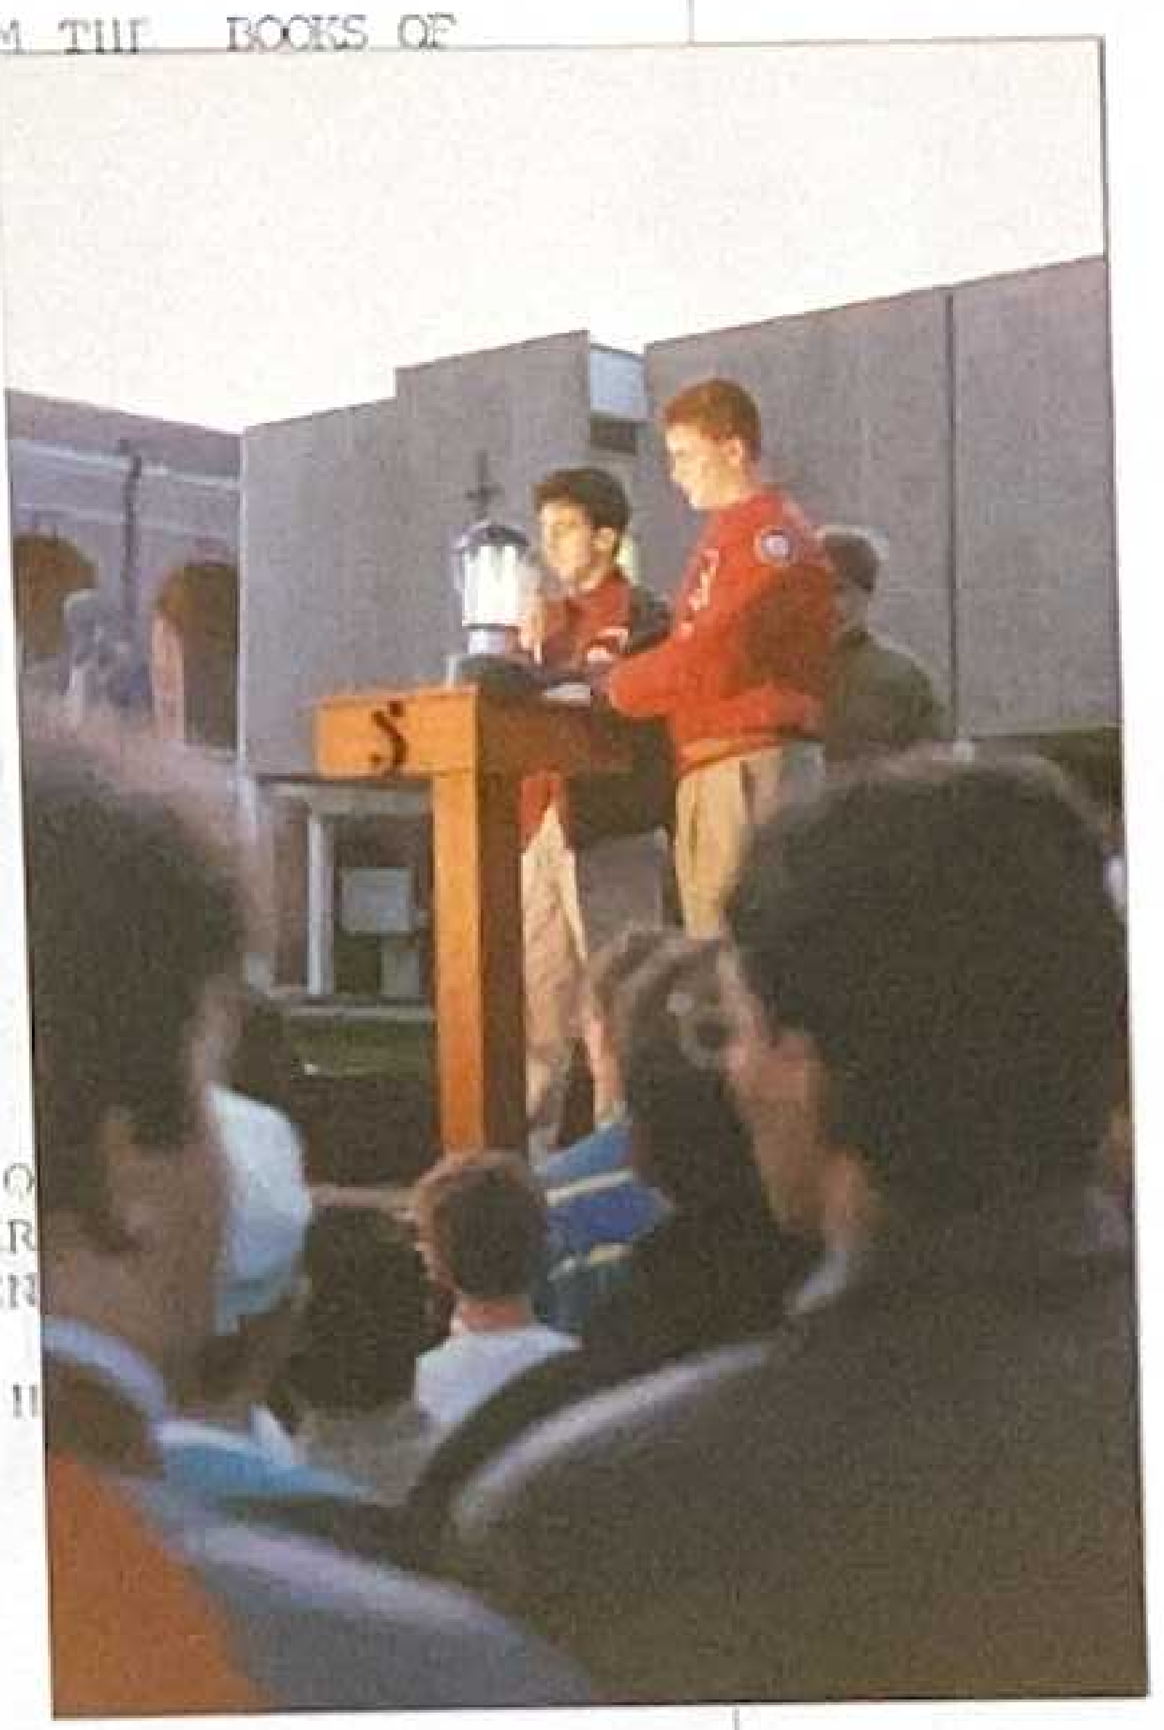
AND WE ASK THIS IN THE NAME OF JESUS, YOUR SON. AMEN.

JOHN LABRUZZO: JOHN ESTAY WILL NOW READ A PASSAGE FROM THE BOOKS OF PSALMS: KING DAVID PRAISES GOD FOR HIS LIFE WHICH BEGAN BEFORE HI

JOHN LABRUZZO: Mrs. Tom Eldrinhoff will sing "Isaiah"

THANK YOU, Mrs. Eldrinhoff.

JOHN LABRUZZO: IT IS WITH PLEASURE THAT I INTRODUCE O
BRIAN VON GRUBEN OF BATON ROUGE, LA. I FIRST HEARD MR
LAST YEAR'S KEY CLUB CONVENTION IN BILOXI. HIS PRESEN
GREATLY IMPRESSED EVERYONE WHO HEARD HIM.
MR. VON GRUBEN IS THE FATHER OF SIX CHILDREN. H
IN THE PRO LIFE MOVEMENT, MR. VON GRUBEN



MARC DISTEFANO: WE ARE READY TO BEING OUR MARCH. THE MARCH WILL MOVE DOWN BEACH BLVD TO MAIN STREET, COMING BACK DOWN 2nd STREET TO THIS POINT IN FRONT OF SCHOOL. WE ASK YOU TO CARRY LIGHTED CANDLES IN THIS MARCH AND TO MARCH IN SILENCE WE WILL ALSO CARRY THE CROSS TO LEAD THIS PROCESSION. WE WILL ALSO STOP ALONG THE WAY TO PRAY FOR SPECIAL PEOPLE WHOSE RIGHTS ARE NOT RESPECTED IN OUR WORLD TODAY. AT EACH STOP, WE ASK THAT SEVERAL OF YOU REPLACE THOSE CARRYING THE CROSS AS WE MOVE ALONG.

NOW LETS QUIETLY BEGIN OUR MARCH

RETURN: I WANT TO THANK ALL OF YOU FOR COMING OUT THIS EVENING TO SHOW YOUR BELIEF THAT HUMAN LIFE IS SACRED, SACRED IN THE BORN AND IN THE UNBORN.

I HOPE THAT AS YOU RETURN TO YOUR HOMES, YOUR SCHOOLS, YOUR WORK PLACES, THAT THE VALUE OF EACH PERSON AS A CHILD OF GOD WILL BECOME EVEN MORE APPARENT TO YOU.

I ESPECIALLY THANK MR. BRIAN VON GRUBEN FOR HELPING US THIS EVENING TO CELEBRATE THE RIGHTS OF THE UNBORN.

PLEASE BOW YOUR HEADS--HEAVENLY FATHER, WE HAVE JUST MADE A SYMBOLIC MARCH, FATHER, TO SHOW THAT WE BELIEVE IN LIFE. NOW, FATHER, GIVE US THE GRACE TO SHOW THAT RESPECT BY PRACTICING THE TEACHING OF YOUR SON, "DO UNTO OTHERS WHAT YOU WOULD WANT THEM TO DO UNTO YOU." GIVE EVEYONE A SAFE TRIP HOME, THANK YOU FOR OUR SPEAKER AND FOR ALL WHO PARTICIPATED IN OUR RALLY.

AND WE ASK ALL OF THIS IN THE NAME OF YOUR SON, JESUS. AMEN.

Abortion

Questi

An

Our first nine months of life must have been the most eventful we have ever experienced. Here are the major milestones of that life before birth — the first chapter in your own biography:

CONCEPTION: Father's sperm penetrates mother's egg cell. Genetic instructions from both parents interact to begin a new and unique individual — no bigger than a grain of sugar.

1st DAY: The first cell divides into two, the two into four, and so on.

5-9 DAYS: The new individual burrows into the wall of the womb.

14 DAYS: Mother's menstrual period is suppressed by a hormone produced by her child.

18 DAYS: Heart is forming. Soon eyes start to develop.

20 DAYS: Foundations of brain, spinal cord and nervous system are laid.

24 DAYS: Heart begins to beat.

28 DAYS: Muscles are developing along the future spine. Arms and legs are budding.

30 DAYS: Child has grown 10,000 times to 6-7mm (¼in) long. Brain has human proportions. Blood flows in veins (but stays separate from mother's blood).

BEGINNING YOUR OWN BIOGRAPHY

35 DAYS: Pituitary gland in brain is forming. Mouth, ears and nose are taking shape.

40 DAYS: Heart's energy output is 20 per cent of adult's.

42 DAYS: Skeleton is formed. Brain co-ordinates movement of muscles and organs. Reflex responses have begun. Penis is forming in boys. (Mother misses second period.)

43 DAYS: Brain waves can be recorded.

45 DAYS: Spontaneous movements have begun. Buds of milk teeth have appeared.

7 WEEKS: Lips are sensitive to touch. Ears may resemble family pattern.

8 WEEKS: Child is well-proportioned, small-scale baby, 3cm (1⅛in) sitting up and a gram (1/30oz) in weight. Every organ is present. Heart beats sturdily. Stomach produces digestive juices. Liver makes blood cells. Kidneys begin to function. Taste buds are forming.

8½ WEEKS: Fingerprints are being engraved. Eyelids and palms of hands are sensitive to touch.

9 WEEKS: Child will bend fingers around an object placed in the palm. Thumb sucking occurs. Fingernails are forming.

10 WEEKS: Body is sensitive to touch. Child squints, swallows, puckers up brow and frowns.

11 WEEKS: Baby urinates, makes complex facial expressions — even smiles.

12 WEEKS: Vigorous activity shows distinct individuality. Child can kick, turn feet, curl and fan toes, make a fist, move thumbs, bend wrists, turn head, open mouth and press lips tightly together. Breathing is practised.

13 WEEKS: Face is prettier, facial expressions resembling parents'. Movements are graceful, reflexes vigorous. Vocal chords are formed (but without air baby cannot cry). Sex organs are apparent.

4 MONTHS: Child can grasp with hands, swim and turn somersaults.

4-5 MONTHS: Mother first feels baby's movements.

5 MONTHS: Sleeping habits appear, but slammed door will provoke activity. Child responds to sounds in frequen-

Dear Brother John and John,

Words can't express how very much Nancy and I enjoyed being with all the boys at St. Stanislaus last week. I was impressed with the maturity and sensitivity that they showed as we discussed abortion details. They were definitely interested in the subject and I'm confident that since they now know the facts, they will try to educate others.

We will win this battle eventually. Christians everywhere - especially our youth - must wake up and take a stand. You can both be proud that you have already.

Thank you very much for inviting us and we would be honored to help you again in the future in any way we can.

Dear Bro. John,

Hope all is well with you & your students - Cty. I thank you for helping out. This month I had to help this 19 yr. old boy who badly wanted to go back to school. He has had many problems with peers etc. So I gave him some money for pants. I hope the Key Club doesn't mind.

He is going to H. Sch. in Tuba City 2 hrs drive from here. He lives in a dorm at night. So I hope your boys will not mind.

Again thanks.

No news about the helpers coming in this summer.

Till later, In Christ

Thank you for your letters & donation. Please thank the students who were involved in helping.

Just got back from Phoenix for our Cty. meetings. Four days of sharing & praying & planning!

Started a letter out there but never could get back so this is high time I come to thank you for all your help: the painting, the Grotto, the teaching etc.

Mrs. Herrera came from Alb. & painted the Statue of Our Lady of the Lakes. It's very colorful.

Please let me know more ab. ur. summer plans. Till later,
In His love
Sr. Maria Sato

NAVAJO BOY

The mountains stand firm with their arms crossed like a stern Navajo Medicine Man. The boy leans against the cedar posts of his summer home and looks longingly at the Lukachukai Mountains. Some day up into those dark canyons he will steal away to see for himself the sacred springs and the pine trees and the great bears that slip down from time to time to kill the sheep.

The thought of the sheep reminds him that he must not dream all day. Today he will be taking the sheep to better pasture and the sun is already squeezing between the twin buttes on the eastern ridge. He calls for his two dogs and moccassins swiftly to the small flock.

Meanwhile, high in the mountains above a lone bear is tumbling toward the sand and sagebrush below. It has been a bad year in the mountains. Little rain and little food for the animals. It is times like these that make the bears roam. And when they are on the roam, they become hungry and vicious. The lone bear who is now zigzagging faster down the mountain stops suddenly and stands erect, sizing up the boy and lusting for the sheep on the desert far below. Then he falls to his paws and scampers down the canyon.

Dear Brother John:

Thank you and the St. Stanislaus Key Club for agreeing to help with the Gulfport Anti-Litter Campaign kickoff on Saturday, September 9, 1989. Attached is a fact sheet about the events of that day.

Please complete the enclosed form and return it in the self-addressed envelope as soon as possible. This will help us prepare for the correct number of people who will participate on Saturday, September 9.

Also, we would like you or your designee to be present at a press conference on Tuesday, August 29, at 10:00 a.m. at Grasslawn where the Mayor, yourself and other representatives of the organizations supporting the anti-litter campaign will announce the campaign to the news media.

Again, thank you very much for your help and support and your returning the enclosed form. If you have any questions about Saturday, September 9, call Frankie Montana at 864-5481.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Chairman, Anti-Litter Campaign

Kiwanis clubs mark 75 years of promoting community service

By DIANNE NODIER
STAFF WRITER

■ On Jan. 21, 75 years ago, the first Kiwanis Club, in Detroit, voted itself into existence, paving the way for different chapters around the world.

Armed with objectives like placing human and spiritual values above material ones, living the "Golden Rule" and promoting higher social, business and professional standards, the first Kiwanis Club set the standard for such chapters in Biloxi, Gulfport, Pascagoula, Ocean Springs and Orange Grove.

Kiwanis clubs sponsor community service projects and raise funds to meet local needs. Through the years, the clubs here have contributed to anti-litter campaigns, high school Key Clubs, college Circle K International Clubs, R.U.O.K. programs, summer activities for children and more.

"Kiwanis has never been a big [illegible]pla," said Edward E. Gemmill, Bi[illegible] chapter president. "We've nev[illegible]ed our horn about what we do in [illegible]ommunity."

Th[illegible] [illegible]loxi club, founded in 1946, will ce[illegible]brate the international 75th anniversary by having Harvey Barton, lieutenant governor, or head of all the Kiwanis clubs in this Coast division, speak at one of its meetings.

Robert Galloway, president of the Gulfport chapter, said his club will not have a big public celebration. "We had a little party among ourselves" last week, Galloway said. "Some of the St. Stanislaus boys were there . . . and brought us a big birthday cake."

The Gulfport chapter, founded in 1922, sponsors the St. Stanislaus' Key Club, which is like a Kiwanis Club for high school students.

Gemmill said the Biloxi chapter, with 40 members, will have a party in February kicking off its membership drive.

"We've never pushed to be a great big organization. We've always been strong without that amount of people," Gemmill said. "I am trying to bring in some new blood."

is youth. Gemmill said the Biloxi club strays from that objective sometimes — like the $800 kitchen ceiling it recently donated to the shelter for battered women.

"One of the most important projects so far this year didn't involve a lot of man-hours," he said about the R.U.O.K project where people confined to their homes can have someone phone them every day to make sure they do not need help. "We contributed the full amount, over $5,000 for hardware, for the city of Biloxi for it to be implemented."

The members now wish they had donated the hardware instead of the money, because the City Council, following the proper governmental procedures, has taken much longer than the Kiwanis would have, Gemmill said.

Galloway said the Gulfport chapter, which boasts 90 to 95 members, sponsors an annual fishing rodeo for handicapped children, helps fund the recreation department in Gulfport, donates to "Feed My Sheep" soup kitchen, a Salvation Army project and much more.

The Biloxi chapter's next project is to send surveys to clergy, youth directors, coaches and others who deal with children every day, asking them what they think the problems are and what the Kiwanis can do to help, Gemmill said. "That project is sponsored by international projects, they suggest we do certain projects," Gemmill said.

Members of the clubs, Barton said, spend their time and money for the satisfaction of giving something back to the community. "They are service- and community-minded individuals who feel like a collected effort could promote progress in our communities that we as individuals could not do alone," he said.

The Kiwanis have 6,951 clubs with 268,091 members in the United States alone, according to "Kiwanis, a magazine for community leaders."

Hancock and Stone counties do not have Kiwanis Club chapters, Barton

UPDATE

GULFPORT KIWANIS CLUB "AUNTIE LITTER" CAMPAIGN

The Gulfport Kiwanis Club's massive anti-litter campaign is steaming full speed ahead toward the huge "kick-off" at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday, September 9th, at Jones Pavillion where we hope to have Mayor Combes and other city dignitaries address the hundreds of volunteers assembled to attack the mass of litter on Gulfport streets. The following organizations have agreed to keep these main arteries in Gulfport litter free for a year.

Gulfport Naval Seabees-Broad Avenue
Harrison County Sheriff's Department-Hwy 49 & I-10
Gulfport Police-Hewes Avenue from Beach to Pass Rd
Air National Guard-Hewes Avenue, Pass Rd to Airport-Airport to Hwy 49
St. John's High School-Courthouse-Beach to Pass Rd
Gulfport High-Cowan-Lorraine Rd-Beach to I-10
Gulfport Kiwanis-Cowan-Lorraine Rd-Beach to I-10
Indal Aluminum-34th St. to Hwy 49

We'll have a poster and slogan contest for the young people so that they can take part in this giant effort.

Poster Contest-K thru 8th grade- $50,$25, $15 prizes
Slogan Contest-K thru 8th grade- $50,$25, $15 prizes
"Auntie" LitterSearch to find a female to fit the role-
prizes of all kinds

The campaign logo will be a little old lady with gray hair, gold rimmed glasses, and an explosive personality. There will be a 30 day contest to find the right real live "Auntie" Litter and the one selected will have many planned activities to keep her busy as well as many planned activities to keep her busy as well as many fine prizes for winning the part. The person selected will soon be a Gulfport Celebrity.

A sign campaign will feature a rendering of "Auntie" Litter and say "Fight Litter! Make Gulfport Beautiful!! A Burma Shave sign concept will be used on Gulfport roadsides and highways. There will be 6 different series of signs-each signs will be small(10 X 24) with a single word or letter on each sign placed at even distances so that the slogan might be a mile long. The signs will remain in place for two weeks and then moved to a new location.

Litter barrels and small signs will be placed at each dock in the small craft harbor and fishing fleet harbor as well as the two high schools.

"Auntie" Litter will appear on billboards throughout the city for the entire 12 months of the campaign-she will appear on the back cover of Coast Liners Business Report and the prestigious Coast Magazine will feature a complete story with pictures on the campaign.

Several grocery chains will use the logo on their grocery bags and in their newspaper advertisements. The coast's largest department store will use the logo in their ads.

500 window cards for Gulfport's stores will be distributed and over 1,000 bumper kers will be placed on Gulfport's automobiles to help spread the word.

of the fast food chains will be distributing grocery bags with litter slogans.

program would not be possible without the splendid help of all our donors who are ncing these efforts.

500 letters will be sent to Gulfport teachers and administrators. Another letter will ent to every business and office on each adopted street and Pass Road. Pass Road could be adopted because of the heavy traffic and cars darting in and out of businesses, the letter will ask them to volunteer to keep their property litter free. Letters being sent to every club, church, garden club, civic club, service club, and clubs as the V.F.W., etc.

re will be block captains in the business areas and residential community. Their ction is to visit their neighbors and ask their cooperation in keeping their blocks ter free.

s entire endeavor will be accomplished with volunteers and paid for by donors. This t might be our last chance to end this eyesore in Gulfport!

itional volunteers are needed as well as donors to help pay for signs, letters, etc. r help is greatly needed and will be sincerely appreciated. Please call 896-0803 for plete details.

Good habits help

Good habits are contagious the same as bad habits.

If such a program was pursued with vigor, the Coast could have a completely new face lift within five years. Such surgery would transform an area with a lot of natural beauty into a show place.

This new community appearance, combined with the openness and hospitality of the local people, would produce a winning combination equal to none and would provide a base for economic development that would become the envy of the South.

Within a decade, the Mississippi Gulf Coast could be a thriving center for tourism and commerce that would provide quality jobs for its own residents and for residents from other parts of the state.

The people would benefit.

Dear Brother John,

This is to confirm that the Mississippi Highway Patrol will participate in the BAY BRIDGE RUN. Our services include the blocking of the east bound lane of traffic on the Bay of Saint Louis bridge, re-routing the traffic flow to the westbound lane. It is to my understanding the run will consume an hour. Three (3) State Troopers will be in attendance.

If we can be of further assistance in this matter or any other, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

David Kenny
